Discounts

If you are a current student or alumnus of a U.S.-based college, university, or trade school, you may qualify for a discount when registering for our online programs. To find out if you qualify, please contact your school directly.

Paused Access

Although NWS does not offer discounts, students may lose their discount if they violate the terms or conditions of a member school. For example, this may occur if a student stops payment towards a payment plan or membership program. In such cases, you may still access your NWS program materials but, depending on your school's policy, you may be required to pay back some portion of the previously received discount.
