General Questions · https://wineschool.us/help/who-can-offer-in-person-sommelier-certification/

Instructors offering in-person programs must be accredited by the National Wine School. This includes holding a Core Certification and completing Teacher Training*. This ensures a consistent academic standard across all NWS-affiliated in-person programs.

Online programs, however, may be offered directly through the platform without additional credentialing.

*Teacher training is not required for professors and wine school owners.
